POEMS FOR YOUR SCRAP BOOK

A POEM FOR ARMISTICE DAY

"Epicedium"

Or "Hymn for the Dead"

(In Memory of America's Dead in the Great War)

BY J. CORSON MILLER

No more for them shall Evening's rose unclose, Nor Dawn's emblazoned panoplies be spread; Alike, the Rain's warm kiss and stabbing snows, Unminded, fall upon each hallowed head. But the Bugles, as they leap and wildly sing, Rejoice, ... remembering.

The guns' mad music their young ears have known—War's lullables that mouned on Flanders Plain;
Tonight the Wind walks on them, still as stone,

Where they lie huddled close as riven grain. But the Drums, reverberating, proudly roll—
They love a Soldier's soul!

With arms outflung, and eyes that laughed at Death, They drank the wine of sacrifice and loss; For them a life-time spanned a burning breath,

And Truth they visioned, clean of earthly dross. But the Fifes,—can ye not hear their lusty shriek? They know, and now they speak!

The lazy drift of cloud, the noonday hum
Of vagrant bees, the lark's untrammeled song
Shall gladden them no more, who now lie dumb

In Death's strange sleep, yet once were swift and strong. But the bells, that to all living listeners peal, With joy their deeds reveal!

They have given their lives, with bodies bruised and broken,

Upon their Country's altar they have bled; They have left, as priceless heritage, a token

That Honor lives forever with the Dead.

And the Bugles, as their rich notes rise and fall—
They answer, knowing all.

The Criminals—Who Are They?

POPULAR notions of the sort of persons who crowd this country's penal institutions may be in need of revision. Data just compiled regarding the 1462 convicted persons who were admitted to Sing Sing prison during 1925, contain several surprises, with corresponding food for thought.

Are the bulk of crimes committed by the foreignborn? The records of Sing Sing show that 1034 out of 1462 prisoners received last year were native born Americans, while 21 were born in American territories. The alien population of the prison is only 17.4 per cent.

Are the prisons filled with repeaters? At Sing Sing 82 per cent. of last year's arrivals were newcomers.

Poverty and lack of employment are often cited as crime factors, as of course they are. But only 25.7 per cent. of those received at Sing Sing were out of employment at the time of their criminal act.

Does education overcome criminal instincts? Undoubtedly it helps to do so. One hundred and thirty-three persons who had received high school training and 67 who had attended college entered New York state's famous prison last year. The number of college students in the previous year's entries had been only 19 and of high school graduates 101.

Finally—what of religion? There were only seven professed atheists in the 1462 entrants at the prison last year. The rest all acknowledged some form of religious faith.

Education and religion, despite such statistics, are still the most effective forces for the prevention of crime. But apparently these forces do not always take hold as they should.

CONFLICT OF LAWS: Foreign Obligation: Suit in this Country: Marks or Dollars. A N obligation arising in Germany, payable in marks in 1915, and suit brought in this country in 1921, raises question whether marks or their value in dollars at time obligation is incurred is recoverable, held: It was a liability in marks alone and was open to satisfaction by the payment of that number of marks, at any time, with whatever interest might have accrued, however much the mark might nave fallen in value, as it is a suit in this country based upon an obligation existing under the foreign law at the time when the suit is brought, and the obligation is not enlarged by the fact that the creditor happens to be able to catch his debtor here.—Die Deutsche Bank Filiale Nurnberg v.
